9. Blanket Distribution

My name is Kuraisa Khatun, I am from Nalapar village, Patna - Bihar. Our community usually does rag picking. To keep ourselves warm, we set fires using wood, tyres and also plastic that we find during rag picking. It brings a lot of health issues due to the inhalation of smoke that comes from the materials we use

On the 5th of January, I was alone at my home, and it was quite cold so I went on to set a bonfire to keep myself warm. I was warming myself in front of the fire. I didn't notice that my polyester sari was on fire and I felt fire on me. I shouted for help and people around came and helped me, trying to put off the fire, it took quite some time and my body (legs and back) were burnt. I was rushed to the hospital immediately. I had no money for treatment, Pastors from my area and church members helped me to cover up my hospital bills.

After I returned from the hospital, I received a blanket from HFT volunteers. I was very happy and I am very grateful to Hope for Today for the help.

I pray and bless Hope for Today to continue their relief works among poor and needy.
