Anshit Vilasagaram
Grade 1

Anshit comes from a humble and challenging background. His father abandoned the family when he was very young, leaving his mother to shoulder the burden of raising him alone. Despite her determination and hard work, his mother struggled to make ends meet, often facing difficult choices to provide even the basics for her family. Recognizing her dire situation, she reached out for help, and that's when Hope for Today stepped in to support Anshit through their Education Support Program.

This initiative provided him with the resources and opportunities necessary to pursue an education—a dream that once seemed out of reach for his family. Thanks to the assistance of Hope for Today, Anshit is now attending school and is proudly enrolled in Grade 1. This milestone is not just a step forward in his education but also a beacon of hope for a brighter future for him and his family.

Anshit and his mother are deeply grateful to Hope for Today for their timely intervention and unwavering support. The aid has not only empowered Anshit with education but has also brought a renewed sense of optimism and stability to their lives.

Through this program, Hope for Today has given Anshit a chance to dream and work towards a better future.
